DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on August 19, 2004 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 24-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. With respect to base claims 24 and 25, the carrier portion is said to have "an open side from which extend end portions of said bar and said fin," so it is uncertain as to whether the fastener is positively recited as a structural part of the invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 3731

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 24-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cimber (3,675,639). With respect to claim 24, Cimber discloses, in figures 2-4, an installation tool with an elongated inserter that is configured for a fastener as claimed. That is Cimber's fastener (20), which includes a bar (26) and protrusions extending outwardly from the bar, is similar to the fastener as claimed, and Cimber's inserter is configured for fastener (20) and its analog as claimed. The inserter (43) has a tubular carrier portion (46) with an open side and a sharpened distally directed edge defined by an inserter sloping distal surface (45). With respect to claims 25 and 26, Cimber discloses, in figures 2-4 and in col. 4, lines 24-29, an installation tool with an elongated rigid tube (72), a carrier portion (43) with a chamber having an open carrier side (58), a closed carrier side (at 62), and a proximal wall; and a sharpened edge (45), and control means (42) for moving the carrier portion.

Response to Amendment

6. Applicant's arguments filed August 19, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. See the rejection above.

Conclusion

7. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the application prior to the entry of the submission under 37 CFR 1.114 and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the application prior to entry under 37 CFR 1.114. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing of a request for continued examination and the submission under 37 CFR 1.114. See MPEP § 706.07(b).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
